ABOUT ME

I am looking for my first job. Also ready for an internship in the company.

I want to get a creative and motivated team where we can set goals and achieve them. I am a manager-economist who decided to reload my career and relaunch it as a Front End Developer.

I aim to grow into a successful developer and build an IT career.

Professional and knowledge growth, development, experience enhancement, results-oriented work, and self-expression are very important to me.

Previously, I worked as a Top-manager in retail, so I have good experience in teamwork, know how to find solutions in any problematic situation, and take full responsibility for the results of my work.

My projects are on my website portfolio or GitHub.
